

AIR NATIONAL GUARD
FISCAL YEAR 2015
INTERMEDIATE DEVELOPMENT COURSE (IDC)
ANNOUNCEMENT

Professional development for our officer cadre is extremely important and our senior leadership is committed to providing quality educational opportunities to meet the developmental needs of our future leaders.

The FY 15 Intermediate Development Course (IDC) dates are: 26-30 January 2015, 23-27 February 2015, 15-19 June, and 24-28 August 2015.

The IDC is unit funded and is held in Jackson Auditorium at Conaway Hall, ANG Readiness Center, Joint Base Andrews. This course is intended for personnel currently occupying a command billet on the Unit Manning Document. When the opportunity permits, consider sending personnel projected for command.

Overview: The Intermediate Development Course is designed for Squadron / Flight Commanders or those who will soon assume this responsibility. The course provides an opportunity for you to share leadership experiences and issues which affect the Commander each day. The IDC is conducted ‘by the Field, for the Field’ and supports the basic premise of “what I wish I had known before assuming command”. You will explore proven leadership tenets, interact with seasoned commanders throughout the Air National Guard and receive the most current information affecting today’s Airmen.

Course Length: Class begins Monday at 0730L. You should plan to arrive one day prior to the class start date. Graduation will take place approximately 1500L on Friday, allowing evening air or auto travel return to your home unit for most students.

Funding: This is a unit funded course and students may attend in any type of TDY status authorized by unit orders.

Registration: Your Base Force Support Development (FSD) Superintendent will perform student registration through TEAMS. Once the FSS requests a seat, NGB/HRT will issue a Training Line Number (TLN). You should receive an email from the IDC staff with reporting instructions approximately one month prior to class start date.

Contacting the IDC Staff: If you have questions about the course, please contact Ashley Gray at DSN 828-8905 or ashley.gray.1@ang.af.mil
